

Jeanne Ann Bathen

March 19, 1931 - June 30, 2020

Jeanne A Bathen went peacefully to God on June 30, 2020. She is survived by her loving family : George (Sherri) Bathen, Susan (George) Stock, Michael (Cheryl) Bathen, Christopher Bathen (Joanna Burke), Timothy Bathen (Carol Scott). She was the best Mother, grandma and great-grandma(GG) with loving stories and hugs for all. Jeanne loved her baseball Cardinals and never missed a televised game after moving to Florida. She attended many games with family and friends while living in St Louis. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her, though we are sure heaven welcomed her with open arms. Private services to be held at a later date.

“ She will be missed. Always a smile and good discussions. Evacuating to the Holiday Inn after the last hurricane and sharing breakfast was fun during difficult times for us all. My sympathy to all her family.

“ And Suddenly

I believe in rejoicing the passing of a well lived life.
For, of wonders untold the Great Yonder is rife.
So it is fitting to bang the drum and blow the fife.
But suddenly, without warning,
My eyes leaked this morning.

Being close to a heart of gold is cause for elation.
Those who have had the privilege know the appreciation.
Hearts of pure gold seem to be on a ration,
And suddenly, without warning
Both my eyes leaked this morning.

It has been said that pain is selfish when I hurt, I'm aware of me.
Whether pain is physical or emotional it is only natural really.
Dogs and cats; most forms of life feel pain you see.
And suddenly this morning,
My eyes leaked without warning.

Sometimes it hurts to write it down;
Ol' Smokey sang "Tears of a Clown",
There's another jewel in God's crown
But suddenly, with no warning,
My eyes leaked this morning.

Birds still sing and the world still turns.
Water's still wet and fire still burns.
Voices still speak and hunger still yearns,
And suddenly without warning,
My eyes leaked this morning.

Ring every bell there is to ring!
Sing every song there is to sing!
Everything is everything.....
Then suddenly this morning,
My eyes leaked without warning.

There's plenty here that needs doing today.
Better get started, so as tonight not to say,
I miss the daylight that went away.
My eyes leaked without warning
Suddenly this morning.

“ My Dear Grandma Jeanne,
Some of my fondest memories as a child were visiting you in St. Louis. You always had so many fun things planned for us to do and it was always fun when you would come to see us in Flagstaff. Our games of catch phrase and Pictionary ended in boisterous laughter. I will miss your warm hugs and gentle ways. Love you always,
Sarah Jeanne

“ Dear Mom
The world seems full of people that complain about their mother-in-law. I am not of those. From the very first time we met you were always smiling, gracious and kind. Always encouraging, gently guiding and never a harsh word.. Over the years I was amazed by the love you poured into "our family". All of us. From Sue and I, to your sons, to grand children and then great grand children. We all are thankful and love you back.
Your zest for life was admired, your silent strength amazing,
It has been my pleasure to know you and to be able to call you Mom.

You are loved GG and forever will be missed!

“ My darling Grammies,

I cannot begin to express the whole left in our lives but how your legacy lives on every day. I'll miss receiving all of your handmade cards, watching you manually keeping score of the Cardinals games, learning to make buckeye balls, falling in love with figure skating and gymnastics, our grandma Easter egg hunts And you being the only person who could call my Stephie. You were amazingly strong but so soft and sensitive at the same time. Everyone who crossed your path was blessed by your sweetness. I can only pray that I have an ounce of the woman that you are and can continue the family legacy of strong, independent and caring women.

Thank you for 40 years of love, guidance and memories!

“ Dearest GG, you are a sweet, sensitive, but strong sole. You never forgot a birthday, anniversary, or any significant event in someone's life that you loved. I will always remember baseball games, sleep overs, and you trying to do my hair before school. Sorry I gave you such a hard time with that! The world was lucky to have you as I'm sure heaven will be. Love you and miss you always.

“ Dear Mama Jeanne it was truly a pleasure and a privilege to meet you. You were so warm and welcoming as if I knew you all along. Your stories of your professional life were interesting and amazing for you were ahead of your time. You had such love of family and communication that it was very important to keep in touch to hold the family together. Thank you for including me into your fold. You will be missed but you are in my heart forever. May you rest in God's arms in peace. Love you bunches.

“ Grandma Jeanne—

Thank you so much for all of your love, in all its forms. The cards and emails and phone calls just to check in, the shared sunsets in Florida and Arizona, the smiles and laughs—all will be remembered. YOU will always be remembered, missed, and loved. Rest easy, grandma.

“ At one point in her career she traveled to numerous major cities to facilitate presentations. She was the sole representative for her corporation in a place she had never been. She would spend the day divulging information, and answering questions for the agents in that venue. I'm sure they came away better equipped to operate their companies and with improved outlooks. It took courage. It took intuition. It was her nature. Just ask the kids she directed in the Christmas play those many years ago!

“ You were a wonderful, positive presence. Thank you for all your support and the love you so eagerly gave. Thank you for the letters and the cards, thank you for the stories of your family and your childhood, and thank you for making my childhood so full of stories too. I think I prefer cream cheese now, but sometimes I still put butter on my bagel. I'll miss you.

“ I was blessed to have the most amazing grandmother, and Madelynn to have the best great grandmother.
I am living proof that you were an outstanding mother, for my father has taught me well.
Always a smile on your face, with love and joy in your heart. So many memories, and so many laughs.
Stories of when my father was young, words of wisdom when I needed it most, and who can forget the 4 legged chicken.
Thank you for everything.
You will be greatly missed.
We will love you forever.

“ She is in the roses.
Her laugh stays with me.
It was like she was giving you a gift to hear it.
And she was a gift giver.
Never an occasion passed without a card in the mail.
Her kindness and strength now spread through us.
She is in the roses.

Thank you grandma,
Amy

“ I thought to call this morning
But I knew you wouldn't answer
Another Friday mornings passed
I miss our weekly banter.
So my sister I will call instead
And know that time will heal
This empty place inside my heart
That all of us now feel.
Miss you Momma

“ I truly don't know how you did it, Mama so much love for so many, but you saved the best for us! From the stories of your childhood and "dancing nights" in Waterloo, to marriage and family, a passel of kids, farm life, Fenton, empty nesting, city life, Tucson, Florida you covered a lot of ground, touched many lives! Can't imagine a day will go by that I won't have at least one memory of you, want to talk to you, tell you something keep an eye on us Mama, just like you always have Always, All ways!!!!
