“ Some people don't get to even meet their grandparents.. Some people don't get a lot of time..

I was so blessed to have 33 years with my lovely Grandma Lenore. We had an amazing relationship. I loved her more than anyone and anything in this world. We had so many holidays together so many dinners conversations laughs and stories.

When she moved to Florida I was so lucky to be 12 minutes away from her. We had our weekly dinners and watched Hallmark and Jeopardy. She would tell me stories about my grandpa and about my mom and uncles growing up.

She had the cutest little quotes. My favorite was when I would open the door and she would be dressed up to go out and she would say "hold on let me put my face on" She was so beautiful.. Always dressed up always looked her best..

I really love her.. I promise Grandma I will carry you in my heart forever. I will keep your memory alive..not a day has gone by where I dont think about you. My heart maybe broken but my love for you is forever.

I hope that you will watch over us and smile. You had an amazing life and everyone loves you.

Grandma that is my story and I am sticking to it! Love you forever -Danielle
